PUTTING PUBLIC SAFETY FIRST

RIDE SAFELY ON AMUSEMENT DEVICES

Nothing thrills a kid – or brings the kid out in an adult – than an exhilarating trip to an amusement park. If you want to squeeze all the fun you can out of your amusement park adventure, take a few tips on rider safety from the Technical Standards and Safety Authority.

BEFORE THE RIDE

- ✓ Observe age, height and weight restrictions to determine whether or not the ride is appropriate for you or a child in your care.
- ✓ Read and follow all the rules for each ride and instruct any children in your care on how to appropriately behave.

REMEMBER, most incidents are rider-related. Unsafe behaviour puts you at risk. Follow safe instructions and take responsibility for your own safety.

DURING THE RIDE

- ✓ Be sure to tie up long hair and remove any loose articles [sunglasses, hat, jewellery, etc.] that have the potential to fall off during the ride.
- ✓ Remain seated, buckled in and be sure to keep your hands and feet inside the ride at all times.
- ✓ Use all safety equipment which the ride offers and remember to always listen to the operator's instructions.

AFTER THE RIDE

- ✓ When the ride is over, remain seated until you come to a complete stop.
- ✓ If you feel tired, stop riding or take a break. The rides are not as much fun or safe if you're exhausted.
- ✓ If you find any problems with any rides, be sure to report them to the operator immediately.

SLIDING INTO SAFETY

Before you make a big splash this season, follow these simple safety rules and show all your friends how safe and fun you can be:

- ✓ Always obey all instructions given by the attendant.
- ✓ Do not dive, run, stand, kneel or rotate in the slide channel.
- ✓ Keep your hands inside the slide channel.
- ✓ Do not double ride with another person.
- ✓ Do not start down the slide until the splash down area is clear, or you have been instructed by the attendant.
- ✓ Clear the splash area promptly.
